Alt 3:	7	3	5
Notes:	Individual property that maintains integrity of location, design, setting, workmanship, materials, feeling and association, or some combination of these. Not located within an established or potential district.	National Registry of Historic Places (NRHP) status has not yet been established via the standard research avenues. These existing districts could be significant on the local, state or national level.	Areas found to have a relatively high level of architectural integrity and intact - contributing elements from the potential period of significance. Some potential districts are adjacent to existing districts and could be considered extensions of existing districts rather than stand alone districts.
